Message from the principal....

The partnership between the parents and the school working together in the best interest of their child is one of the most important elements of an effective school. Parents are their child's first teacher modeling both verbal and non-verbal language to their child every single day. Reading with your child daily helps to develop your child's reading skills as well as allows you to spend quality time as a family. As we LEAP into Spring, we encourage all families to read with their children.

Each week, homeroom teachers send home a newsletter with important announcements, events, and recognitions, as well as homework and upcoming tests. In addition to the newsletter, monthly conduct calendars are sent home with daily conduct. This encourages daily communication with your child's teacher.

If you have questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact your child's teacher.

Character Building

Regular attendance at school is important to your child's academic success. Studies have shown that high absenteeism in the early grades contribute to students not reaching reading proficiency in grade 3. This is a reminder that our instructional day begins at 7:50 AM daily and ends at 3:00 PM. Please make every effort to have your child at school on time. Students arriving later than 7:50 AM must be signed in at the office by an adult. Also, any excuses for an absence must be turned in when your child comes back to school to avoid any further action.

Home School Connections

Logging into Google is easy if you follow a few steps. Once you have logged into Google Chrome, in the top right corner of the screen under the web address bar there will be the Google Apps icon. It is also called the "Google Waffle" which is nine tiny dots that make a square. Clicking on it will open all the classes your child is assigned to. Once you open a classroom you should read any messages in your "Stream". Click on the "Classwork" tab to get to any assignments you need to complete. Scroll down the page to click on your assignments. You must also click on "Turn In" when you have completed each assignment to get credit for it.
